

Games Connect Children Around the World

Grade 5

English

Nonfiction

World games Theme

~146 words

CCSS.ELA.RL.5.2

Name: _____ Date: _____

▢ READ — READ THIS PASSAGE CAREFULLY. YOU MAY READ IT TWICE.

Games have brought people together for thousands of years across every continent. Whether playing tag in Africa, marbles in Asia, or hopscotch in Europe, children discover that fun knows no borders. These traditional games teach important values like teamwork, honesty, and respect. When kids play chess in Russia or kabaddi in India, they learn the same lessons about patience and strategy. Modern technology now allows children from different countries to play video games together, creating new friendships instantly. International game tournaments bring athletes from around the world to compete in sports like basketball, soccer, and gymnastics. Through games, children understand that despite speaking different languages or living in different places, people everywhere share common hopes and dreams. The universal language of play reminds us that games are more than entertainment. They build bridges between cultures and create lasting connections that help build a more peaceful world.

▢ Tip: Read the passage twice before turning to the questions on the next page.

Games Connect Children Around the World

Grade 5

English

Nonfiction

World games Theme

~146 words

CCSS.ELA.RL.5.2

Questions

→ ANSWER USE THE PASSAGE ON PAGE 1 TO HELP FIND YOUR ANSWERS.

MAIN IDEA

1. What is this passage mostly about?

---

---

---

TEXT EVIDENCE

2. What examples does the author give of traditional games played in different countries?

---

---

---

VOCABULARY

3. What does the word 'universal' mean as used in the passage?

---

---

---

INFERENCE

4. Why might learning about games from other countries help people understand each other better?

---

---

---

CAUSE AND EFFECT

5. What happens because of modern technology's role in gaming?

---

---

---

TEXT EVIDENCE

6. According to the passage, what values do traditional games teach children?

---

---

---

✓ ANSWER KEY — Games Connect Children Around the World

Grade 5

English

Nonfiction

World games Theme

~146 words

CCSS.ELA.RL.5.2

TEACHER / PARENT USE ONLY — Suggested answers shown below each question

Games have brought people together for thousands of years across every continent. Whether playing tag in Africa, marbles in Asia, or hopscotch in Europe, children discover that fun knows no borders. These traditional games teach important values like teamwork, honesty, and respect. When kids play chess in Russia or kabaddi in India, they learn the same lessons about patience and strategy. Modern technology now allows children from different countries to play video games together, creating new friendships instantly. International game tournaments bring athletes from around the world to compete in sports like basketball, soccer, and gymnastics. Through games, children understand that despite speaking different languages or living in different places, people everywhere share common hopes and dreams. The universal language of play reminds us that games are more than entertainment. They build bridges between cultures and create lasting connections that help build a more peaceful world.

MAIN IDEA

1. What is this passage mostly about?

The passage is mostly about how games bring people from different countries and cultures together and teach them important values.

TEXT EVIDENCE

2. What examples does the author give of traditional games played in different countries?

The author mentions tag in Africa, marbles in Asia, hopscotch in Europe, chess in Russia, and kabaddi in India.

VOCABULARY

3. What does the word 'universal' mean as used in the passage?

Universal means something that is true or applies to everyone everywhere, regardless of where they live or what language they speak.

INFERENCE

4. Why might learning about games from other countries help people understand each other better?

When people learn about games from other cultures, they discover that people everywhere enjoy similar activities and have similar values, which helps them see their shared humanity.

CAUSE AND EFFECT

5. What happens because of modern technology's role in gaming?

Because of modern technology, children from different countries can play video games together, which allows them to create new friendships instantly across the world.

TEXT EVIDENCE

6. According to the passage, what values do traditional games teach children?

The passage states that traditional games teach important values like teamwork, honesty, and respect.